Economic impact begins when a visitor spends money in a region. But the benefits to a local economy go well beyond the impact of this initial spending. These "direct economic impact" dollars continue to circulate through the economy, as (for example) innkeepers pay wages, restaurateurs purchase raw ingredients, and so on. These additional rounds of spending are called "indirect economic impact." Total economic impact is the sum of the travelers' initial (direct) spending and the subsequent (indirect) spending by residents of the area. The jobs created, income earned, and tax dollars received are based on the total economic impact.
