

Maine Motorcoach Update for 2025

Maine is ready to welcome the group industry with warm hospitality, scenic vistas, and a wealth of opportunities for groups to enjoy the depth and breadth of what makes Maine special. The following is only a sampling of Maine lodging, dining and entertainment options.

What's New in Maine

Maine has a new national monument. Located in the scenic town of Newcastle adjacent to the Damariscotta River, the Frances Perkins Homestead National Monument honors Frances Perkins' (1880-1965) trailblazing advocacy for social justice and labor rights. The first woman to hold a Cabinet position in the U.S. as Secretary of Labor under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, she was the driving force behind many of the benefits and safeguards American workers count on today.

Coastal Maine Botanical in Boothbay, a public garden extending 323 acres featuring ornamental and themed gardens as well as interpreted trails, has unveiled two new works by Indigenous artists to create permanent public art pieces that amplifies Indigenous wisdom, artistry, and presence.

Maine Day Ventures has added a food and history tour in Biddeford. The 2.5-hour walking tour takes you along revitalized Main Street and through town where textile mills and a thriving theatre and opera scene once took place. Food stops include a family bakeshop, pizza from Maine's original pizza maker and local ice cream. The company offers a variety of tours in several Maine cities and towns.

The Maine Maritime Museum recently published new group rates for their cruises and tours. Tours include cruises to learn about Maine's shipbuilding history and lighthouse cruises
